7. Warning about the risks of epilepsy and the precautions to take when using a video game (Decree No. 96-360 of 23 April 1996 on warnings about the video game)

Precautions to be taken in all cases when using a video game

Avoid playing if you are tired or if you lack sleep. Ensure that you play in a quite enlightened room by moderating the luminosity of your screen. When you use a video game, play at good distance from the screen. It is recommended to take a 10-15 minute break every hour while playing.

Epilepsy warning

Some people are subject to epileptic fits when they are exposed to various luminous stimulations. These people expose themselves to crisis when they watch television or play certain video games. Even if you were never prone to epileptic fits, you can be epileptic without knowing it. If you are epileptic, consult your doctor before playing video games, or immediately if you present one of the following symptoms when you play: giddiness, eye trouble, muscular contraction, involuntary movement, disorientation, temporary loss of consciousness or convulsions.

8. Jurisdiction - Applicable Law
